No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gent:—The fooding of the world with business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

A Little Story with a Large Moral—One Man who Knew his Own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red snappers, but we have some first-rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would do the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

"Have you BENSON'S CAPICINE PLASTER?" asked a gentleman of a certain rugged whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin."

"Not at present," replied the druggist genially, "but we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capicium and others—won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that some time ago, for another disease, of which the Capicine has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 25, 1893

POVERTY DECREASING.

The war against labor-saving machinery has almost entirely died out, and its good effects are now apparent to all. A European correspondent of the Bulletin says: Although the number of paupers is larger than ever before, still there has been a relative decrease. In his Progress and Poverty Harry George asserts that the "poor are growing poorer," but he cannot prove it by anything save theories drawn from his imagination. The leading European authorities agree that the condition of the laboring class has improved greatly since the beginning of this century in Western Europe generally, and especially in those countries where the most machinery has been introduced. In a speech at Birmingham on the 19th instant, John Bright called attention to the fact that the wages of large classes of laborers in that vicinity have doubled within 40 years, and the cost of provisions had fallen in the same period. In his work on the Progress of the World Mulhall tells us that in the last 60 years the wages of English laborers "have risen 50 per cent, while none of the necessities (except meat) and few of the comforts of life are ten per cent dearer."

The evidences of the general improvement in the condition of the poor are to be found in many different directions; in the statistics of the death rate, of the savings banks, of the income tax, of the ownership of property, of the rates of wages, of the cost of provisions, of the schools and newspapers, and of the almshouses and criminal courts. The wonderful achievements of medical and surgical science, and of hygiene, within the last 100 years will probably be surpassed by other improvements in the same direction; some of them, perhaps, already suggested, but not yet proved to the satisfaction of cautious thinkers. The change made by education within the last thirty years in Europe is immense, and has contributed much to increase the political influence of the multitude, and to improve their moral condition. The middle class is rapidly gaining in numbers, which it obtains from the laborers who are now relatively fewer than some centuries since, when the population consisted almost exclusively of a few lords and many serfs.

A GROWING MAN.

An Ohio man writes to the Gazette that Judge Foraker, the Republican candidate for Governor, is making an unexpected impression upon the politics of his State. He is showing a great deal of power and ability in his canvass. He takes high ground, and makes a clean-cut enunciation of the principles of the Republican party. He is clearing away the brush and making ground for the party to progress on the tariff, temperance and other questions. He is a man the Republicans can give a zealous support to without violating any sentiment or tradition, while the reverse is true of his Democratic opponent. His friends are endeavoring to get up a joint canvass, but so far Judge Hoadley fails to come to the scratch. The latter has made but three speeches, and has already so many explanations on hand that it is doubtful if he makes any more.

American naval officers have been so much annoyed by the changes in their uniforms that the recent order making another sweeping alteration was received with a groan of disgust. The Omaha Bee says: It has now been at least temporarily postponed, and a large loss to the officers will be prevented. Those persons who imagine that naval officers get their food and clothing from the Government will be surprised to learn that an officer's mess bill averages $30 per month, and that his clothing costs double what it would in civil life, and both expenses come out of his salary, except an allowance of one ration a day, equal to $9 a month.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

A Reunion of Confederates.

LEXINGTON, July 25. A reunion of John Morgan's Confederate Command is now in progress here. Several hundred members of that notable force are now in camp on a part of the estate of Henry Clay. The tents were furnished by the War Department. Jefferson Davis was invited, but sent a letter saying ill health prevented him from attending, the fatigue of so long a journey, and the excitement of so joyous an occasion, would be more than he could stand. He continued, the name of your association is eloquently commemorative of the daring deeds performed, of dire suffering borne, and barbarous indignities inflicted upon men who had braved and struggled in the unequal combat to vindicate the rights their fathers left them. The daughter of John Morgan is among the guests. Addresses were made yesterday by Frank Walters, General Preston, General Duke, ex-Governor McCrory, General John A. Williams and others. At night the Reverend W. H. Jones of Richmond, Virginia, gave a lecture on the boys in gray. The reunion continues to-day.

The Barbarous Sun-Dance.

ROSEBUD AGENCY, July 25. The sun-dance of the Sioux Indians occurred yesterday afternoon at their camp near this agency. About 1,000 savages were present from all parts of the reservation and a number of white visitors. Fifteen warriors entered for the dance, having fasted four days beforehand. The bodies of all were frightfully lacerated, according to the usage of the tribe, in testing the game qualities of the participants. It is probable this is the last time the sun-dance will be permitted, as strong efforts will be made to have the Government interdict the barbarous practice.

A Dress and Cloak Makers' Strike.

NEW YORK, July 25. Contrary to expectations, the striking dress and cloak makers did not return to work to-day. The members are still dissatisfied, and say they will not return to work until the demands of those working for small outside employers or contractors are complied with. The manufacturers say they will make no further concessions to the strikers.

Stopped by Women.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 25. A desperate prize fight for $500 was fought near Monticotte last evening. The principals were Paddy O'Brien, a saloon keeper, and Mike Breeze, a man fought according to the Marquis of Queensbury rules. Eleven rounds were fought, when a crowd of women broke into the ring, brandishing knives and pistols, and put a stop to the fight.

A Telegraph Suit.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25. C. E. Fuller of 138, South Delaware avenue, this afternoon began five civil suits against the Western Union Telegraph Company, for refusing to transmit a message for him under the ordinary printed conditions. Fuller appeared before the magistrate this afternoon and had the suits issued, returnable Monday. The process will be served on Superintendent Zebulun this afternoon.

Becoming Troublesome.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25. The fourteen branch offices of the American Rapid Company are closed. All business is now conducted at the main office, which is deserted by all except the manager and two female type-writers. At the office of the Baltimore and Ohio the same affairs exist, all the operators are on a strike except the chief, who says business is at a standstill.

A Cowardly Murder.

CHICAGO, July 24. Richard Connor, private watchman, shot and mortally wounded Myer Franks, 13 years old, last evening, and gave as an excuse that the boy was in too close proximity to a railroad car containing water-mellons. The watchman is under arrest.

A Lake Disaster.

MILWAUKEE, July 25. The capsized vessel seen by Captain Small near the city of Milwaukee on his trip to Grand Haven, turned out to be the scow Seabird of Chicago. Her crew of six men, captain, mate, steward and three sailors, was drowned.

A Warning.

RICHMOND, July 25. Night before last a boat containing 8 men and 2 young girls, all colored, that were crossing the James river at Oaremont to attend a prayer meeting at Sandy Point, upset, and eight of the party were drowned.

Sanitary Precautions in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 25. Upon the application of the City Health Commissioners, the City Council has authorized the expenditure of $10,000 additional to the regular appropriation for use in the Health Department, and the Commissioners state the amount will be increased as necessary demands. The Commissioners have engaged a large extra force of teams and men to rid the city of all garbage and refuse, with the view to improving its sanitary condition, and to guard against the introduction of seymatic diseases.

All wires of the Western Union Telegraph Company on the Wisconsin and Milwaukee division of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad were cut at 11:45 last evening at points about six miles distant from the city. The breaks were discovered and the wires are working all right again this morning.

Telegraphic Business Blocked.

NEW YORK, July 25. The reading of dispatches from various parts of the country continued to-day as usual. At a meeting of the striking telegraphers, several communications coming from operators now in the employ of the Western Union, were received by Chairman Mitchell. They showed that the business was crowded, and was being handled only with difficulty. It is stated that on all important wires, messages were piled up, and many dated July 23d are still on file. Dispatches from Washington, Baltimore, Boston, Chicago, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Albany and Syracuse, were read by the chairman and were as usual, full of encouragement to the strikers. Speeches were made by Kohler, Brewer and Kingsley, of the Brotherhood.

FOREIGN DISPATCHES

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

The Hungarian Trial.

VIENNA, July 25. In the Jewish trial at Nyregazse, Hungary, yesterday, the court, at the request of the public prosecutor and counsel for defense, refused to allow the boy, Moritz Scharf, the principal witness for the prosecution, to be sworn, on account of his irreligious and heartless conduct and the conflicting statements he had already made.

The Cholera.

LONDON, July 25. It is reported that quarantine has been forced against all vessels arriving from ports affected with cholera. A dispatch to the Times says the number of deaths from cholera at Mansurah yesterday was 13, Chibben, 118; Acap-tun, 24; Mehill, 43; Ghizeh, 96; Tantah, 16. 284 deaths occurred at Cairo within 12 hours.
